

AN-SOF

Is an innovative software for the modeling of 3D arbitrarily shaped wire structures and the computation of their electromagnetic responses, including currents and voltages in passive circuits as well as dynamic electromagnetic fields in radiation and scattering problems.

